

Miss Palm Springs Contest Set for June 16

Chi Chi, Sun Are Sponsors

A Village beauty will be chosen on June 16 to wear the title of "Miss Palm Springs" throughout 1959.

The Fifth Annual Miss Palm Springs competition officially begins here today with the Chi Chi restaurant and the Desert Sun sharing sponsorship of the event.

FOR THE FIRST time in its history, however, the winner will be selected in a single contest which will be conducted in the Chi Chi on June 16. The contest also features an all-star program starring top-flight entertainers. The entire program is being coordinated by Martin Beck, winner of the contest will receive not only a lengthy list of prizes but will also carry the Palm Springs banner in the Miss Palm Springs competition in Burbank on June 25-29, with the winner entering the Miss United States contest Long Beach in July, and the winner of that in the Miss Universe pageant at Long Beach, also July.

ENTRY BLANKS for the contest are available now at the offices of the Desert Sun, the Desert Empire's only daily newspaper. Qualifications for the contest are listed below:

- Contestants must be 18 years of age or older by July 1, 1959. Birth certificates may be required.
- Must have resided in California for at least six months and must be a resident of the Palm Springs desert area.
- Must be unmarried. Legally divorced entrants are acceptable.
- Must be in good health and possess beauty, charm and poise.

JUDGES for the contest are Chi Chi and the Desert Sun. The contest will include leading personalities from the fields of radio, show business and public life. Local sponsorship of girls in the competition is now being sought on behalf of some contestants. Girls who wish to sponsor contestants are invited to call the Desert Sun for information on available entrants.

Khrushchev Gives New Arms Threat to United States

LONDON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev called yesterday night for an atom-free Balkans. He threatened to establish rocket bases in Albania if the United States went ahead with a plan to set up missile bases in Greece and Italy.

Khrushchev also paused in a speech at Tirana, Albania, to call John Foster Dulles an "outstanding politician" and to express condolences for his death. But he also said the Communist audience Dulles appeared to be softening toward Communism along toward the east.

Assembly Rejects Legalized Lottery

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The Assembly decided Tuesday that it wanted no part of a legalized state lottery.

The lower house rejected, by an overwhelming vote of 51-13, a resolution which would have established a study committee to investigate suggestions that gambling could be used to raise money for the state.

College Board Sets Meeting

An adjourned meeting of the Coachella Valley Junior College board of trustees will be held at 3 p.m. Thursday, in the office of the new college of the desert.

The office is located at 74-273 Highway 111 in Palm Desert, D. Braunwell, board secretary, reported.

$500 DONATION GIVEN HOSPITAL FOR 'FINE CARE'

A generous donation of $500 by the father of a former patient was reported today by Robert Henwood, administrator of Desert Hospital.

The check — a surprise — came through the mail, Henwood said, with a letter citing the donor's appreciation for the "fine care given his daughter while she was at the hospital for emergency surgery."

Henwood said the money would be used to purchase an instrument which would be helpful to many patients, with the final decision to be made by the hospital equipment committee.

Weather

Desert Area Forecast:

IKKE, FOREIGN MINISTERS TO MEET

Raul Castro Found in Cuba Jungle

Small Plane Had Crash-Landed in Mangrove Swamp

HAVANA, Cuba, (UPI) — Maj. Raul Castro and a party of three, missing in a small plane since Tuesday, were rescued safe and unharmed from a mangrove swamp on the south coast of Cuba today.

The plane, which for a while was feared to have crashed, was sighted by aerial searches on the ground of southern Matanzas Province in a pouring rain this morning. The aircraft's undercarriage was smashed, but it was otherwise undamaged.

BECAUSE OF THE bad weather, aerial rescue was impossible. But four navy speedboats, dispatched from Batabano in southern Havana Province, reached the scene and picked up Raul and his companions.

The Castro plane had crash-landed about 150 feet inland from the coast of Ensenada de la Broa, a small bay on the borders of Havana and Matanzas provinces.

THE PLANE was first sighted by the pilot of a Cuban Airlines plane, one of many thrown into an intense aerial search for the missing men. The search effort was directed personally by Premier Fidel Castro, who had flown from Havana to Batabano and boarded a speedboat to the scene.

Four navy speedboats sped to the site. They picked up Raul and his party, who were not injured but were drenched from the heavy rain which still was falling at the time.

THE PARTY INCLUDED besides Castro—who is commander of Cuba's armed forces — Maj. Martin Barona; Capt. Ferrer, Raul's pilot; and Maj. Mayon, the copilot.

The rescue boats headed back to Batabano with the quartet. Premier Castro earlier was stranded on Ramona Key, in the Cienaga swamps which he hopes to reclaim for rice planting, when the helicopter which had delivered him made a forced landing yesterday with a broken rotor blade.

2 Jet Fighters Crash, Burn

EL TORO (UPI) — Two jet fighters crashed and burned in mountainous terrain near historic San Juan Capistrano Mission early today, and both pilots were presumed killed, the Marine Corps said.

Citizens Group to Study Capable Learner Program

Recommendations that could result in a More Capable Learner program through all grades of the Palm Springs Unified School District is now being formulated by a group of interested parents here.

Leroy M. Linick, chairman of the newly-formed Citizens Committee to Evaluate the More Capable Learner Program in the Palm Springs Unified School District, said today that the next meeting of the group will not make such a recommendation but that one "certainly seems in order."

LINICK, WHO TOOK a doctorate in philosophy from Zurich University in Switzerland, said that the meeting—scheduled for 7:30 p.m., June 3, in the cafeteria at the high school—would restate "some of the objectives of this group."

Included in the objectives will be the group's initial declaration that it is seeking to "collect information on More Capable Learners at all levels of the public schools from various sources: school programs throughout the nation, literature, experiments, etc.

East, West Side by Side At Dulles Rite

Washington Cathedral Packed to Capacity For Diplomat's Funeral

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The nation and the world paid last tributes to John Foster Dulles today.

Diplomats from around the globe joined President Eisenhower in a funeral service which packed the great Washington Cathedral to capacity.

LEADERS OF THE East and West stood side by side to pay their respects to the former secretary of state who died Sunday at the age of 71. For one day, at least, they paused in their cold war to honor the man whose past in the service called him the "Mr. Valiant" of the Free World's quest for peace.

They gathered in the vaulted sanctuary of the cathedral to participate in the simple rites of the Presbyterian Church, of which Dulles was an elder.

FROM THE FAR East, from Russia, Europe and Latin America came dignitaries—a chancellor, a prime minister, nearly a score of foreign ministers and others of high station—to join hundreds of American leaders and friends of the Dulles family.

From the cathedral the body of the man who had traveled more than a half million miles in the cause of peace then was borne to a grave in the hallowed soil of Arlington National Cemetery.

There, a 19-gun salute and the sounding of "taps" ended the saga of John Foster Dulles.

BEFORE THE SERVICES, Dulles had lain in state in the Bethlehem Chapel of the cathedral for 24 hours. In that time, more than 20,000 persons filed in solemn respect past his closed coffin.

James Berkeley of the cathedral staff said it was "the biggest crowd of people that has passed through here on such an occasion since the Woodrow Wilson funeral in 1924."

AT THE REQUEST of his family, there was no sermon or eulogy for Dulles. There were prayers, readings from the Old and New Testament, some of Dulles' favorite hymns sung by the cathedral's famous boys choir with the congregation joining in, and a reading from John Bunyan's "Pilgrim's Progress" by Dr. Roswell P. Barnes of New York, U. S. secretary of the World Council of Churches.

Citizens Group to Study Capable Learner Program

to evaluate this information and to formulate reports to be submitted periodically to the Board of Education and citizens.

Linick declared that he wants the group, which already has the approval of Schools Supt. Dwight Twist, to be "a constructive force in the community."

"WHAT WE'RE AIMING for is a comprehensive evaluation of gifted students and their opportunities in this district," Linick said.

Presently, Linick said, the opportunities for more capable learners in the Palm Springs area are "quite limited."

"We expect this to a degree," he said. "What is possible in a city like, say, Philadelphia is not possible here."

"But we do believe that some amount of additional opportunity could be achieved here. We'd like to help in pointing these out."

INCLUDED IN THE list of areas where improvements seem possible, Linick feels, are these: —Establishment of an ultimate goal for MCL students. The program could, Linick says, eventually involve grades one through twelve.

TWO PALM SPRINGS residents were injured last evening when the car in which they were riding sideswiped a 3-ton truck on Highway 111 near San Rafael Road and ended up in the desert several feet off the road, investigating officers reported. Injured were Robert Flesch, 34, driver of the car, and his passenger, Mildred D. Fuller, 49. The accident happened at 9:30 and closed one lane of traffic for a half hour, (Police Department Photo by Bob Flavin).

Wall Collapses At Texas School; Student Killed

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — A heavy brick wall at McReynolds Junior High School crashed to the ground today just as students were entering for classes, killing a 13-year-old girl.

Principal Charles E. Poe said the 10-foot long, seven-foot high wall toppled suddenly as students were preparing to enter the building. Gloria Rivera, 13, was pinned under the wall and killed instantly.

HER FATHER, Joe Rivera Sr., was standing 20 feet away and watched as the wall crashed down on his daughter. Witnesses said Rivera was so paralyzed with fear that he couldn't move to help the girl.

Rivera had just driven his daughter to the school and let her out in the driveway.

POE SAID HE HAD "no idea" what caused the wall to collapse. It was reported that students often played on it.

Witnesses said Gloria was talking to another student, Jean Schubert, 14, at the back of the modern, two-year-old school. The Schuman girl said she knew "something was wrong" with the wall and ran to safety.

Internal Revenue Agents Seize Assets of Local Firm

Internal revenue agents from three counties yesterday seized the assets of the Desert Pool and Gunite Company for failure to pay an estimated $10,000 in withholding taxes.

Melvin Engle, revenue officer in the Riverside County office of the Director of Internal Revenue, said that San Diego County officer E. A. Poole, El Centro officer B. B. Rattan, and himself moved in on the office at approximately 2 p.m., yesterday.

ALL OF THE ASSETS are to be sold at public auction "about the middle of June," Engle told The Desert Sun.

Notification of the actual date of sale will be told both in The Desert Sun, and through a publication of notice to be posted on the firm's premises.

"There is to be no announcement of a minimum bid," Engle said.

THE RIVERSIDE COUNTY representative of the revenue department warned that "similar treatment" is also in store for several other desert area firms which have failed to deposit withholding money.

Engle said that legislation passed by Congress in 1958 makes non-payment of the withholding funds a misdemeanor punishable by fine and/or imprisonment.

"We are going to exercise a rather vigorous policy throughout Riverside County," he said.

Los Angeles Voters Are Economy Minded

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Voters defeated one incumbent city councilman Earle Baker, and turned down two charter amendments in the city's biennial general election, a semina canvass showed today.

Displaying an economy-minded mood, a larger than predicted number of voters—about 39 percent—cast ballots Tuesday to elect three independent school board members who advocated thrift.

Two Injured In Truck-Car Accident Here

Robert Flesch, 34, 241 North Indian Avenue, is in serious condition at Riverside County Hospital, and his passenger, Mildred D. Fuller, 49, was given emergency treatment at Desert Hospital, following a truck-car accident on Highway 111 at San Rafael Road at 9:30 last night.

Police Sgt. Bob Young said that the Flesch car was heading into Palm Springs when it sideswiped a three-ton truck driven by Pete L. Carmona, 46, of Thermal, and then careened off the highway into the desert.

Carmona was not injured.

Flesch and Miss Fuller were treated at Desert Hospital, and Flesch, who received a concussion, and lacerations of the head and a cut on the jaw, was sent to Riverside County Hospital. Miss Fuller was treated for a laceration of the forehead and skull contusions, but refused to be hospitalized and was sent home.

The only damage to the truck was a dent on the right-front fender.

Gromyko Due For Meet at White House

Special Confab Slated to Follow Dulles Funeral

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Eisenhower will meet Thursday with the Big Four and foreign ministers of other nations who came here to attend the funeral of John Foster Dulles, the White House announced today.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will be among those attending a luncheon at the White House.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF the affair came after Eisenhower met with Secretary of State Christian Herter to receive a first hand report on progress of the Geneva Foreign Ministers Conference. Under Secretary C. Douglas Dillon also sat in on the meeting.

Herter flew here from Geneva with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Couve de Murville. Gromyko had arrived by plane less than an hour before.

BOTH HERTER AND Gromyko expressed hope that progress can be made when the Geneva talks resume. Gromyko said he hopes the conference will be successful but noted it is "too early to say" if they will lead to an end of the cold war.

Gromyko, speaking in English, said he was here to attend the funeral of "an outstanding diplomat" whom he had known and dealt with for about 15 years. He added, without elaboration, that "of course, we had differences on many international programs or problems, including some important ones."

HERTER, WHO succeeded Dulles as secretary of state, said both sides at the Geneva meeting now have "a better idea of the others' thinking" and he hopes for "sufficient progress" to justify a summit meeting.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the guest list for the luncheon was not available yet but that it would not be limited to the Big Four foreign ministers. He confirmed that Gromyko would be there.

Eisenhower conferred this morning with Prime Minister Robert G. Menzies of Australia, who was already here for high-level talks, and was to see West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer who flew in from Berlin Tuesday night for the Dulles funeral.

East German Red Nixes 'Warlike' U.S. Berlin Plan

By FRANK H. BARTHOLOMEW

UPI President
EAST BERLIN (UPI) — The Herter seven-point plan for an interim solution of the Berlin problem was pronounced "unacceptable and designed to draw the western powers into military conflict" by East German Communist leader Walter Ulbricht today.

"I cannot believe the American people wish to be drawn into a military adventure over West Berlin," Ulbricht said in an interview with United Press International.

THE INTERVIEW took place on D-Day, a few hours after expiration of the ultimatum given the Western powers by Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev to withdraw military forces from West Berlin. The deadline passed without incident.

"The Herter statement is a repetition of the extreme position taken by the western powers at the outset of the Geneva conference," Ulbricht, first secretary of the East German Communist party and first deputy premier, asserted.

"UNDER THE SLOGAN of free elections, it is proposed that American troops would actually advance eastward. They would occupy Karlshorst, present headquarters of the U.S.S.R. forces in East Berlin. As a rule, conquest of a capital city is the last step as a war draws to a close, not an initial step in the inauguration of a new conflict.

"Adenauer, West German Defense Minister Franz Josef Strauss and West Berlin Mayor Willy Brandt now propose to commence a war by the conquest of the capital of the German Democratic Republic."

ULBRICHT, FLANKED by Gerhart Eisler, condemned "former generals of the Nazi army" for influencing Bonn, the West German capital, in developing an uncompromising position. He expressed sharp regret that American Secretary of State Christian Herter had allegedly endorsed this approach at Geneva Tuesday.

The interview took place in the East Berlin headquarters of the Socialist Unity Communist party, the ruling party in East Germany.

CHAIRMAN ULBRICHT'S office was brightly illuminated with Klieg lights as this writer was ushered in. Motion picture and still-camera photographers thronged one side of the room.

Ulbricht, a blue-eyed man of 65 with a neat Lenin-type goatee and moustache, seated himself at an individual desk heading a director's table. Gerhart Eisler wanted in America for passport fraud, was seated at Ulbricht's left opposite this writer.

TEN QUESTIONS had been submitted in advance to the head Communist of East Germany, and the typewritten answers were handed the writer in both German and English at the start of the interview.

The attack on the new Herter proposal on Berlin was not included in the original questions and answers. It resulted from a prompting of Ulbricht by Eisler during general conversation.

The Eisler prompting brought highly emphatic reaction from Ulbricht.

"THE POTSDAM agreement provided for the presence in Germany of the troops of the western powers as a temporary measure only," Ulbricht said. "Even Harry S. Truman, who was then President, did not imagine that in 1959 American troops would not only still be in Germany, and with the proposal that they now be advanced to East Berlin as well."

"The demand of Adenauer, Strauss and of France is that the numerical strength of the American troops now be increased.

"Why should the U.S.A. increase its troops 14 years after the conclusion of a war, and to 6,000 kilometers from

BOLSHOI BALLET DIDN'T MERIT ADVANCE RAVINGS

By GEORGE LAINE

Press agency has elected at least two presidents, made an "actress" of such as Kim Novak, and made us buy suits we will not wear, breakfast food we will not eat and household appliances we will not use.

On Saturday, however, the fine art of press agency hit a new if unhappy high.

THE BOLSHOI BALLET, a group of touring Russian dancers, took to the stage of Los Angeles Shrine Auditorium and rattled the bones of Petr Ilich Tchaikovsky with an unweild and uncreditable revision of his "Swan Lake."

Your reviewer had gone to the Shrine fully prepared to fall at the shivered feet of this company which has been the recipient of some of the most lavish praise ever accorded such a group. For their Saturday night effort — I stayed only long enough for Act I — they merited little praise.

THE THINGS THAT are wrong, as opposed to the things that are right, with the Bolshois might well be wrapped up in the single explanation that this is a dramatic dance troupe, not a ballet company.

In Saturday's lampoon of the Tchaikovsky masterpiece, the Soviets walked, jumped, skipped and generally did everything except strike the characteristic — the "classical" if you will — poses in which Tchaikovsky — and Vasily Geltser — couched the work.

This met with tremendous applause from the audience — which also applauded when the lights went up, when the dancer did more than stand stock still — in fact, all the time. (I'd like to have seen the Shrine's janitors jog a slow trot across the stage. I'll bet they'd have brought down the house.)

THE BEST BALLET of the first act was actually done by a gymnast — Georgi Farmanyan, who played the jester — but there was nothing balletic about it.

Nina Timofeyeva, in the dual Odette-Odile role, did one lovely but short sequence near the close of Act I.

Boris Khokhlov (the prince) did one quite impressive segment near the conclusion of Act I but even it was bounded by the limitations of the choreography of Alexander Gorsky.

Not nearly so simulating was Yuri Zakharov, who simply refused to dance at all, in Act I. (He actually did not need to do so since the audience went wild whenever he walked onstage.)

THE SEQUENCE THAT supposedly embraces the grand ball is no longer a ballet but a Russian folk dance. In this attempt, the Bolshoi invites comparison with the Moiseyev Dancers. The verdict is that the Moiseyevs were much more fun, better costumed and did not play games with the work of a master.

In fact, the Bolshoi — I keep repeating that this is off their miserably choreographed Saturday version of "Swan Lake" — invites comparison with every ballet company and suffers in the comparison.

The Royal Ballet, formerly the Sadler's Wells Ballet, has the definitive version of "Swan Lake" for our time, I believe. But the New York City Ballet, the Chicago Opera Ballet, the San Francisco Ballet and even the Ballet Russe have done more creditable first acts of the Tchaikovsky work than the Bolshois pulled off Saturday.

THE ORCHESTRA, under the baton of Gennadi Rozhdestvensky, was excellent. That is possibly because it is composed of the members of the Los Angeles Philharmonic.

It should also be mentioned that the advance warning to patrons that no seating would be permitted after 8 p.m. was ignored by the Shrine management which not only seated after 8 p.m. but also allowed seating to continue after the ballet had begun.

To the further discredit of the Bolshoi, the fourth act of "Swan Lake" — which I fortunately missed — has received a complete rehaling at the hands of A. Messerer. Tchaikovsky's poignant story of love lost is ash-canned and, in its stead, the prince gets the girl and staggers off into a proletarian sunset.

I HAPPEN TO HAVE made the mistake of purchasing tickets for the Saturday matinee of Stone Flower but find that I have no incentive for watching the Bolshoi further. (Should any of the Desert Sun readership — which often finds my view alien to their own — be interested in having these tickets (at a substantial discount) I should be glad to part with them. First call at FA 5-5003 gets them.)

If you miss the Bolshoi, however, don't feel bad.

The Greek Theater will have the New York City Ballet — doing "Nutcracker" and some contemporary ballets — beginning July 22 and Franz Waxman will present "The Toy Box" on June 13 in UCLA's Royce Hall. Either will probably be a better choice.

George Harshman Services Held Monday; Here 6 Years

CATHEDRAL CITY — Funeral services were held Monday for George A. Harshman, 47, of Cathedral City, who died at his home Friday night after an illness of four months.

A native of Union City, Ohio,

Harshman came to Cathedral City six years ago and purchased the Rainbow Room which he has owned since.

ACTIVE IN LOCAL organizations, he was a member of the B.P.O. Elks Lodge 1903; the American Legion Owen Coffman Post 319, and the Palm Springs Vets 1341 of 40 & 8.

He is survived by his widow, Beatrice; a brother, Addie Harshman, and a sister, Mrs. Ralph Fielders, both of Indiana.

SERVICES WERE conducted Monday by the Rev. James Arnold, pastor of the Cathedral City Community Church; members of B.P.O. Elks Lodge 1903, and the American Legion, at Wiefels and Son Mortuary Chapel.

Interment was in Desert Memorial Park, with Wiefels and Son Mortuary in charge.

Antone, Curtis Are on Way to Top Together Now Only 2 Years

A goof by a major comedy team on a Los Angeles television set the stage for Marc Antone and Jackie Curtiss to join forces as the most promising new comedy duo in show business.

It happened at CBS' sprawling Hollywood studios in early 1958. Jackie, a comic acrobat, was waiting to do his bit for the cause. Marc, then a straight singer, was set to follow Jackie. But both were slated to come on after the "name" act clowning it up. The act failed to show.

SO JACKIE AND MARC—who both knew the scheduled team by heart — went before the cameras and did a side-splitting parody of the team they were supposed to follow.

Neither had seen the other prior to the backstage meeting but they clicked quickly and with dynamite reaction. The CBS switchboard lit up like an IBM machine on payday.

The pair have been a team ever since.

MARC IS 33, JACKIE just 30. Marc was born in Steubenville, Ohio, which — if you read your Photoplay regularly — is the home town of a fairly well-known baritone named Dean Martin. Jackie hails from Hells Kitchen, N. Y.

Both started early, got an edge on their show biz competition. Jackie broke in with circus acts — his parents worked the circuits — when he was five. Marc started later but was being featured with Ohio bands as vocalist by the time he was in his early teens.

Both suffered adversity—Jackie

MARC ANTONE GIVES Jackie Curtiss a little assistance into the pool at their lodgings here while Mrs. Antone watches the zany pair cavort. The two have risen fast since their teaming less than two years ago, have played dozens of the top-

once worked in a Chinese fortune cookie bakery — before they met each other and started their climb to the top.

SINCE THAT STRANGE formation of the pair have played a variety of clubs ranging from Vancouver's Frontier Room to Dallas' King's Club, from Pittsburgh's New Nixon to Hollywood's Moulin Rouge.

They've been on TV a number of times, have pulled off live charity shows by the dozen and just generally have been coming into their own as stars.

The twosome has had enough rave reviews out of such authoritative spots as Variety and the nation's reviewers in two years to save most performers for twice that span.

ANTONE AND CURTISS don't use mirrors. Instead, they combine comedy with song, add pantomime and mimicry, dance and drama and impersonate and improvise. Put them all together it spells — not mother, but stardom. At least that's the net reaction of the club owners, bookers and show biz critics.

They are without doubt, one of the half dozen most versatile acts in action today.

TWO SUPERVISORS OFFER 'TRADE' TO KEEP SALES TAX

At least two members of the County Board of Supervisors have attempted to solve the old problem of Palm Springs sharing in the sales tax program by offering a higher revenue from the local court if the city would give 10 per cent to the county under the Bradley-Burns Act.

Mayor Frank Bogert told the balance of the council this week that he had been approached by the supervisors who said that if the city would share 10 per cent under the sales tax program they would actually gain in additional revenues given back to them; by the County Board of Supervisors, from the local Judicial District court.

PALM SPRINGS today gets only 34 per cent of the justice court revenues, compared to 66 for the county.

The county, according to Palm Springs Director of Finance Shelby Langford, should be getting only about 21 per cent of the revenues from the court.

City Manager Don Wanner pointed out that he believed the latest move by the county supervisors was an attempt "to make a concession of something Palm Springs was entitled to anyway."

UNDER THE BRADLEY-Burns sales tax program, Palm Springs originally contributed nothing — being excused because it did not benefit from the program — and this held to mid-1958 when the City of Corona threatened to withdraw from the agreement unless Palm Springs paid 10 per cent.

After lengthy discussions with Corona, Palm Springs agreed to pay five per cent in order to hold the Bradley-Burns Act in effect, and so further negotiations could be conducted.

But recently Palm Springs has taken "a fed-up-with-it-all" attitude, and unless some equitable process of contribution is set up will re-enact its own sales tax collection department.

OF DEEP CONCERN to certain local councilmen is the attitude of the Board of Supervisors if the Bradley-Burns Sales Tax Act is quit in this county.

They believe that the Board of Supervisors may levy a 15 cent tax in order to get funds for its current building program.

But another councilman discounted the idea by saying that they wouldn't dare increase the taxes that much, or the people of the county would raise up against them.

"THEY ARE ELECTED officials," said the councilman, "and such an increase in the tax rate of 15 cents would assure them of being beaten at the polls. A 'John Doe' could run against them and beat them."

Administrative Assistant Dick DeLong pointed out that the city should only be paying the estimated cost of operating a municipal court, which would be about 21 per cent, which would have amounted to $11,000 last year, but instead paid the county a total of $35,000.

Two Brothers Critical After Taking Tablets

LOS ANGELES UPI—Two small brothers were reported in critical condition today after swallowing insect poison tablets. Parents of 150 other youngsters were warned to be on the look-out for 29 poison tablets still missing.

Gary, 5, and Michael Nieburger, 4, went into convulsions Tuesday shortly after returning home from a playground. They were taken to Morningside Hospital suffering from strychnine poisoning.

Officers said the boys were playing with about 150 other children at the playground. A nearby empty box which originally contained 40 insect tablets was found in the play area. All but 29 of the strychnine tablets were accounted for.

Two Nations Hunt Kidnaped Girl

ASUNCION, Paraguay UPI—Police of two nations joined today in search for Maria Berta Becker, 45-day-old granddaughter of Bolivian Ambassador Luis Arduz Daza, who was kidnaped from the embassy Sunday.

Paraguayan police rounded up a number of the 300 Bolivian refugees here on the chance that the crime was part of a political plot. They also arrested all the embassy servants because of indications the kidnapping might have been an inside job.

Radio stations here broadcast repeated appeals for help to locate the missing infant.

At the ambassador's request, Bolivian authorities set up a watch at border points through which little Maria might be smuggled into Bolivia.

Segregation Existed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — At the time of the Supreme Court's desegregation decision on May 17, 1954, school segregation was compulsory in 17 states and the District of Columbia. It was permitted in four states, and specifically prohibited in 16.

Dear Abby...

...by Abigail VanBuren

BILLY RAY (AT MIKE) and his flock of Jaybirds go through one of the tunes that pull people into the Bali Bali each night except Wednesday. That's Jimmy Franklin on tenor, Jeff Bentley on drums and Johnny Lytle on violin. Ray has led a colorful life, tells about part of it in today's Desert Sun.

'Rockabilly' Singer Changed from Pop

By GEORGE LAINE

Billy Ray and his Jaybirds were playing an up-tempo tune called "Charlie Brown (He's a Clown)" for patrons at the Bali Bali here and most of the tables and a good chunk of the bar space was occupied.

Ray fondled his rhythm guitar—mostly he sings—and the other three members of the group waited. Jimmy Franklin, who doubles on steel guitar and tenor sax; Johnny Lytle, who plays both mandolin and violin; and drummer Jeff Bentley roared heavily on the novelty tune, then swung into "Wall of Tears" and finished the set with "Basin Street Blues."

LATER, AT A TABLE, Ray relaxed between sets.

"Man," he sighed. "It sure is good to be back. I played here three weeks last year—and it was great. People here sure do like good music."

Billy started as a pop singer but switched to so-called "country" singing when he decided he didn't want to die young.

"I like to starve to death before I started singing this way," Billy said.

THERE IS A NAME for the kind of singing that Billy does.

"It's called rockabilly," explained the angular, tousle-haired vocalist. "You got to have a title for everything, I guess."

Actually, Texas-born Billy not only objects to specific titles for types of singing, but particularly to the fixing of a "western" title on the band he heads.

"You're getting confused," he told the reporter. "You keep calling it western. A lot of people do but it's not right. It bugs me, too."

BILLY'S CHECKERED career has included such things as appearances in band carnivals at Madison Square Garden, introduction of the harmonica as a recording gimmick—and ready, now—a 50-day tour as a flagpole sitter (and deejay) in Vallejo.

He's also a composer and his latest tune "It's Only You" is also his latest release on the Demon Records label.

Privately, Billy likes ballads best, lists Dean Martin and Doris Day as his favorite male and female singers, and spends plenty of time listening to his radio.

"It's hard to listen to radio," he pointed out, "when you don't like rock and roll."

THE GUITARIST DREW himself to his feet.

"I gotta go play," he said. "Anything you want to hear?"

"Yeh," countered the reporter. "Play a western tune."

Billy gritted his teeth and moved back to the bandstand.

When the band was all plugged in, Billy announced that he'd answer a request with "In the Mood." The reporter gritted his teeth.

THE BAND WAS moving into "Lonesome Road" when genial Mike Jekyl wandered over and took the chair Billy had vacated.

"Good group," Mike offered.

"Uh," came the reply.

"Want a drink?" Mike asked.

"Uh," came the reply.

"Y'know," Mike became serious, glanced at the bandstand where the electric fiddle, the electric rhythm guitar and the electric steel guitar were working frantically. "I was thinking about tragedies the other day."

"If the power ever goes off here, I'm dead."

Forestry Service Releases Acreage from Closed Area

"Thomas Mountain has tremendous recreation value and we feel it can now be safely used by the public," Forest Ranger John Gilman told the supervisors this week. He said that after four years of work in the area the forestry service has completed preparation for removing it from the large "closed" section of which it is a part.

Access streets have been built, and additional firebreaks made, and because a road is adjacent to the proposed boundary, Gilman said it is easily designated and can be signed and patrolled. The Regional Forest Service has already given its stamp of approval.

ed county counsel to prepare an ordinance to effect the change.

ACCORDING TO Gilman the owner of the only private land involved, about 15 per cent of the Thomas Mountain acreage, is Jack Garner of San Bernardino. He said Garner has signified his approval of opening the area to the public.

Gilman said that Bautiste Canyon, the North Fork of the San Jacinto River and Lower Indian Canyon have a greater potential of flood damage and will remain closed.

AN AREA OF approximately 12,000 acres is to be made open to the public with about seven miles along the west side of the Palms-to-Pines highway southerly from a point about a mile south of Hemet Lake.

Gilman said that the Forestry release of the area will be effective July 1, and in order to release "intermingled private land" at the same time the supervisors granted his request and instructed

Sewing Bees To Be Continued By Post Auxiliary

DESERT HOT SPRINGS —Sewing bees held by the women of American Legion Auxiliary No. 763 here will be continued in response to heavy requests from the women.

The sewing bees provided bed protectors and scuffles for hospitalized veterans.

Worn bed sheeting is still needed and should be delivered to Welfare Chairman Anna B. Miller at 16-589 Via Corto West in Los Angeles. For pickup service call here at FA 9-3616. Books and magazines are also needed.

Better Hurry! With Spring here, MG's head for the open road, (leaving very few behind in the showroom). Why be last in line?

DEAR ABBY: I am a boy eleven years old. I didn't have anything to do so I took our tools next door and cleaned up the neighbor's yard. They are two old people and he is lame and the works out. He came out on his crutches and made me take two dollars. Abby, I didn't want the two dollars. He said he would be mad at me if I didn't take it, so I had to take it. It took all the fun out of doing it for me. Do you think I should go back and try to get him to take his two dollars?

CUB SCOUT DEAR CUB: Keep the two dollars. His "pride" might suffer if you tried to return it. Just keep right on doing those nice things for people who can't do for themselves and I predict a very happy life for you. Bless you, Sonny.

DEAR ABBY: I met a man at work and we fell in love at first sight you might say. He says he has no family or friends and doesn't like to talk about his past. I am 20 and have been on my own four years, but I don't have much experience with men. I live with my grandparents and work at a factory. This man is handsome and treats me nice but he seems to have come out of nowhere. Do you think his past is important?

NOT EXPERIENCED DEAR NOT: A man's past is very important—especially if he doesn't like to talk about it. People who seem to have "come from out of nowhere" usually end up the same place. Find out where he's been all your life or lose him.

DEAR ABBY: I am a young widow who has a nice business which my husband left me. All my friends warn me to watch out for men who are interested in marrying me for my money. I have met a few men who seem interested in me for myself, but how can I tell? My friends say it would be foolish of me to waste my time with a man who has less in assets than I have. I can't ask a man for an accounting of his assets, can I? I know of one man in particular whom I suspect doesn't have as much as I have, but I like him. I am lonesome but I don't have to buy a man yet. What is a woman in my position supposed to do?

STELLA DEAR STELLA: Look for a man who is decent, treats you right and is good company. If you reach the point in your relationship where marriage is discussed, lay your cards on the table and ask him to do likewise. If he couldn't possibly marry you without your money, then you can safely assume that your "assets" created his urge to merge.

DEAR ABBY: What would you do if you had a brother who was 12 and he loved model airplanes? When I am trying to get dressed he comes into my room with a model airplane and shoots it over my room and shoots it over my head and wrecks my hair and scares me to death. What do you do with a brother like that?

MAD DEAR MAD: Lock your door and tell your brother to go fly a kite (outside)!

CONFIDENTIAL TO BRUCE: A fellow who doesn't know what "square" means—is.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McGeathron, of Balboa, are spending a few days in town. Mrs. McGeathron is director of the Reading House in Balboa and author of the textbook, "Your Child Can Learn to Read." The 200,000 copy of the fifth edition of this book was recently presented to the Desert Hot Springs Library. Currently Mrs. McGeathron's streamlined method of teaching basic reading is being put on records which will soon be released by International Sleep Teaching Records, Inc.

Archie Hoffman of Los Angeles spent the weekend at his residence here on Sixth Street.

Oliver Jaynes, former publisher of The Desert Sun, was in town Thursday. Jaynes toured the Angel View Crippled Children's Clinic and expressed much pleasure with the progress being made.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Johnson have just returned from an enjoyable four-day motor trip to Oceanside, Escondido and Hemet.

Ex-Congressman John Phillips of Banning was in town on Thursday to address a dinner meeting of the Desert Hot Springs Rotary Club.

The Desert Hot Springs Recreation and Park District has taken over management of the ball park and named it Wardman Park in honor of the well known philanthropist, Aubrey Wardman of Whittier. The five acre site was recently increased to six acres when the Wardmans deeded an adjoining acre to the Park District. According to Chairman H. A. Eccles, a five year plan for development of the site calls for work to begin on the first project — a Youth Recreation Center — in the fall.

Mrs. Renee Miller is recovering from a painful foot injury which has confined her to her home for the past three weeks.

The Desert Hot Springs Recreation and Park District has announced the appointment of V. J. Jubilo as chairman of the new Adult Recreation Center which will open shortly. The Center, which is located in the Community Park, will operate on a year-round basis and will feature such activities as croquet, shuffleboard, card games, etc. Assisting Jubilo will be Capt. John J. Sandore, Sr., vice chairman; Miss Ila Campbell, secretary-treasurer; and committee members Delmer and Sam Axelrod.

Mrs. L. E. Clark combined business with pleasure on a recent five day jaunt to Los Angeles, Temple City and Arcadia.

Mrs. Sarah R. Weiss, who is spending two weeks in Pasadena with her aunt, Mrs. R. R. Anthony, attended a performance of the Bolshoi Ballet on Saturday. Before returning home early in June, she will participate in several bona voyage parties honoring friends who are departing for Europe.

Word has been received from Honolulu that two well known former residents of this community — Mrs. Helen Young, of El Monte, and Mrs. John (Bet) Addington, of Beverly Hills — have arrived in the islands for an indefinite stay.

Mrs. Vera Barnett left Saturday for Canoga Lake, N.Y., where she will operate her beach apparel shop until after Labor Day. Mr. Barnett will remain here at their motel, the Casa Vera, will stay open all summer.

200 property owners in the Highlands subdivision and guests at motels located in that area, were fêted at a barbecue and swim party given by the partners of the Desert Hot Springs Highlands, on Saturday night. Hosts for the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Babia, Claude Bieghler, Nick Passavante, the Howard Rosines, James Galloes, Ted Spillars, Don Hulburts, Mrs. Margaret Barnett, Mrs. Marion Simone, and the Don Rosines. Instrumental and vocal music was provided by Raymond Catalano, Jose Cervantes and Bert Hine.

Dr. Albert Pyle, prominent eye, ears, nose and throat specialist, of Los Angeles, is spending a week at the Highlander Lodge.

Authentic Hawaiian food, native dancers performed by Fern Norton and Myrna Newman and a humorous skit starring Glory Monday and Marian Mooney, contributed to the success of the luncheon held by the Desert Hot Springs Woman's Club at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wertz on Tuesday evening. Officials greeters, Mr. and Mrs. Arnesen welcomed the 75 members and their husbands with leis.

Twenty Brownies, members of the Cactus and Dolores Patrols of Troop 77, enjoyed a full day's outing on Saturday when they toured the Sun-Up Dairy in Banning and the Three-Ring Ranch in Beaumont. Accompanying the girls were Brownie leader Mildred Sherrill, assistant leader Ruth Rickerts, Kay Hansen and Betty C. Green.

Exchange Student

Local Youth Goes to Germany

Bill Rutledge, 16-year-old Palm Springs High School student, has been chosen by his previous school in Berrien Springs, Mich., to attend summer school in Germany as an exchange student, it was learned here today.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Eamon Rutledge, owners of the Golden West shop in Thrifty Center, the opportunity to make the trip was made possible through his association with the Foreign Exchange student program in his former home town.

A TEACHER, Victor King, Berrien High School, started the program in that community when he was an exchange teacher in Germany during the war. Bill left Palm Springs Sunday to join five other boys in Berrien and then the six will leave from Montreal on June 2. On their way to Germany, the boys will tour Europe by seeing the sights in England, France and Switzerland.

ALL THE BOYS earned their own expenses for the trip by working during the year. Bill helped his parents in the establishment of their new business in Palm Springs, thereby earning his fare.

All expenses of the boys are paid, except personal things they might need and transportation, by local service clubs in Berrien. Palm Springs High School is currently working on a Student Exchange program which they hope to have in force within the next year.

SUNAIR

By JEAN PATANE

Among the guests at Sunair Terrace were Mr. and Mrs. David M. Barbour who returned to Hollywood Sunday after a week here. Enjoying a few days of relaxation during the week were Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McAfferty of San Diego. Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Gaker, frequent guests from Altadena, Mr. and Mrs. S. Prager of Los Angeles, and Mr. and Mrs. Irving S. Karp of North Hollywood. Here for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. K. R. Gordon, frequent weekend guests from Edwards Air Force Base, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Asman of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Curtis and Mr. and Mrs. Claude Keele from Anaheim, and Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Sandhorse, who make their home in Hawthorne.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin A. Pugh with their children, Marsha, Ronnie and Pam and their young friend, Ralph McManaman, returned Sunday night from Lakeview and a visit with another son, Jeff, who will return to the desert after the close of school.

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Kehoe returned to their home in Lynwood after a week at the Sunation Motel. Also at Sunation last week were Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bishop of Eugene, Ore., and here for several days were E. Barley of Los Angeles. Mid-week guests were Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hampson of Balboa and Mr. O. H. Harder of Vancouver, B.C.

Mrs. Charlotte Stecher, a former resident of Rancho Mirage, is now making her home at the Charlene Apartments on Palo Verde Drive. Robin Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Brown, local attorney, spent the weekend in Los Angeles at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. Elizabeth H. Brown.

Mrs. Robert (Phylla) Bedford (Beauty by Bedford) is progressing satisfactorily following surgery at Pomona Valley Hospital last Thursday. Mrs. Bedford will return to her home in about ten days.

Water Service

Authorized for Indian Wells Area

Within 30 days after holding a hearing in Palm Springs the Public Utilities Commission has ordered that Harold J. Hicks, doing business as the Palm Valley Water Co., can start water service in the Indian Wells area.

The public hearing was held on an application by the Palm Valley Water Company on March 24 before PUC Examiner Kent C. Rogers, at which time all testimony was presented.

The PUC, on May 22, granted a certificate of public convenience and necessity "to acquire, construct and operate a public utility water company."

Purchase of Naval Hospital Asked

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — Sen. Nelson S. Dilworth (D-Hemet) Thursday introduced a resolution asking the state to buy the Corona Naval Hospital property at Norco when the land is available for purchase. "The state is continually enlarging institutional facilities," Dilworth said. "If this property is ever made surplus, it could provide for expansion of state facilities."

Stereo Hearing Aids

NEW YORK (UPI) — Stereo has gone to work for the hard-of-hearing. Hearing aids have been developed which come in pairs, one for each ear, separately adjusted. The Hearing Aid Industry Conference said this method of binaural hearing enables persons with certain types of defects to achieve a better sense of sound direction and distance than a single aid would give them.

Rancho Mirage

By JEAN PATANE

Over the weekend Mrs. Eudora Pace was in Coronado for the State Convention of Business and Professional Women. Last weekend Mrs. Pace, her mother, Mrs. Eudora Dean, and her daughter, Joan, were in Hollywood visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Dolly Kennell. While there Mrs. Pace and Joan enjoyed a visit to the Planetarium.

Among the guests at the Rancho Mirage Hotel for the weekend were Ed Moise of Inglewood, Pat Waters, Howard Hurbert, Ed Padilla, William Burke, Lois Johnston, Betty Walker, Mary Sommers, Zaida Shilovok, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Baughman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McKenzie of Los Angeles. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Asaris and Mr. and Mrs. John Sell of West Covina, and Mr. and Mrs. R. Asaris of La Mirada, all associated with the Los Angeles Branch of the United Insurance Company of America. On Saturday night they were guests of Mrs. Faye McKinnon of Rancho Mirage at her table at the Desert Air Luau. Mrs. McKinnon was formerly with the company.

Dr. and Mrs. Alexander Stearns returned to North Hollywood Monday after five days at their Rancho Mirage home relaxing from his busy office schedule. Among the guests at El Rancho Motel for the weekend were Dolly Dahle, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Reuter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Andru-Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Doneal, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schmitt, all of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reid from Downey and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Sago of Huntington Park, here for the Desert Air Luau on Saturday night. Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Mernaugh of Tacoma, Wash., were at El Rancho for a few days mid-week.

Walter Simmons was here recently to visit with his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Farr. Mr. Farr is president of Salton Sea Vista.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted (Jean) Smith of Rancho Mirage and Palm Desert (Real Estate) left Sunday by air via the North Pole for a holiday in Northern Europe and the Scandinavian countries.

Enjoying a mid-week holiday at the Montecito Apartments were Mrs. Thomas Ryder and sons, Timmy and Danny, and Mrs. Carol Clary and children, Rodney, Kathy and Patti of Pacoima. At Montecito for an indefinite stay are Gene Chambers, Bob Franklin and Roy Gerde of Bloomington. Among the weekend guests were

Mr. and Mrs. C. Manolaks and family from Whittier.

Weekend houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Al Ames (Rancho Mirage Texaco) were Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Altman of San Bernardino. Saturday night the Ameses and their guests attended the Desert Air Luau and Sunday afternoon they enjoyed a swimming party at the John Brooks home.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Shaw and children, Larry and Gayle, were here from their home in San Clemente visiting for the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Olaf Nelson, owners of Nelson's Motel. Among the guests at the motel were Dr. H. Finley of Rosemead, Dr. I. M. Newell from Riverside, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller of San Bernardino and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Setey of Hollywood.

Weekend houseguests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter T. Smith of Rancho Mirage Realty, were his sister, Mrs. Helen Doherty, and his 36-year-old mother, Mrs. Elizabeth K. Smith, who make their home in Burbank.

Enjoying the weekend at Casa Verde Apartments were Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Balch, frequent visitors from Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Russell, also of Long Beach, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Halverson of Hamden, Conn., and Mr. and Mrs. Ward M. Beck from La Habra, Mr. and Mrs. William Randall, Mr. and Mrs. A. McCracken, Mr. and Mrs. Mickey Kurtz and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Henderson flew in from Compton for the Desert Air Luau. Casa Verde owner Mrs. Christine Erickson's son, Harold, a naval engineer, is now on duty in Korea.

Constance Holland, well known desert ceramic artist, who recently moved her studio to more spacious quarters at 71-884 Highway 111, returned Sunday from a five day business and pleasure trip to Los Angeles.

WESTERN HOTEL executives, Dewey W. Metzdorf, vice president of Western Hotels Inc., general manager of Oasis Hotel here and Frank A. Weston, Seattle, vice president and controller of Western Hotels Inc., stopped in Palm Springs this week to inspect the new air-conditioning units just added to the Oasis. This makes the Oasis 100 per cent air conditioned, and it will remain open until June 1 next year. Roland Richter, resident manager of the Oasis, reports the hotel will be opened on Oct. 1, and already is booked until mid-May of next year, with conventions early and late and the long time guests who come to the Oasis each year for a long seasonal stay. (Desert Sun Photo)

METZDORF TELLS 'HOTEL' PROGRESS

Dewey W. Metzdorf, general manager of Oasis Hotel here, is now concentrating on building a chain of "horizontal hotels" called the Caravan Inns.

He has opened five large units in the last six months, the nearest being in Riverside. Others are in Lancaster, two in Bakersfield, Phoenix-East opened April 15th, and the Phoenix-West, which is under construction and will be ready for occupancy by July 1.

He and his group have plans for three more to open soon in Encino, San Jose and Sacramento. The Caravan Inn division will be operated by Western Hotels, Inc., which now has hotels as far north as Alaska and south to Guatemala. They operate the Hawaiian Village in Honolulu and the Cosmopolitan in Denver.

Metzdorf, who now makes his headquarters at the Mayfair Hotel in Los Angeles, is slated to go in as president of California Hotel Association next October at its annual convention. The 1960 convention of this group will be held in Palm Springs with the Oasis Hotel as headquarters.

During his previous stay in Palm Springs, Metzdorf served as president of the Chamber of Commerce during last season, and was a member of the local Rotary Club.

Party Crashing To Be Illegal In Palm Springs

At the request of Chief of Police August G. Keitmann, the Palm Springs City Council will enact a new law tonight making it a misdemeanor to crash a party or trespass.

Party crashing, which has caused both police and local residents a great deal of trouble during the past years, has not previously been an offense, and because it was on private property, there was little the authorities could do.

With the passing of the new ordinance it will make it a misdemeanor for anyone to be on private property without the permission of the owner or lessee.

Party to Honor Jennie Frank

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — A luncheon and swim party will honor Mrs. Jennie Frank's birthday here on June 2, the Sisterhood of the Jewish Community Center announced today.

The luncheon will be held in the Center with the swimming to be accomplished at the Smile Inn at 163 West Third Street.

Donations for the $1.50 tickets may be made to Mrs. Augusta La Voe, at FA 9-6628, or with Annie B. Miller, at FA 9-3616.

A Question of Health

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Only a sick Senate (which doesn't seem to be the case) could turn down the appointment of Lewis Strauss to be Secretary of Commerce.

The opposition to Strauss, as shown in 16 days of hearings and 121 days of delay, is compounded largely, but not entirely, of hatred. True, there are some non-emotional and even rational reasons to oppose him—there are always such reasons on every appointment. But the element which has poisoned the hearings—and could poison the mental health of the Senate—is the venom of deep, unreasoning, unforgetting hatred of living men for each other.

IT IS THE KIND of malignant loathing that feeds upon itself, upon frustration and upon a phony kind of rationalization. It is destructive to body and mind, and it curses both the giver and receiver.

The time is too late to be naming names and probing causes. Strauss will be voted against by Senators from sparsely-populated States where Federalized electrical power is an important economic commodity. Rightly or wrongly, Strauss has the name of being a "private" power man against "public" power. This vote against Strauss, while petty, is not irrational.

SOME SENATORS will vote against him for prejudicial reasons—Strauss is a Wall Street banker and is an Old Guard Republican who entered the Government under President Herbert Hoover. Here again is discriminatory voting which is provincial, partisan and mean, yet it is not psychotic.

But the Senators who speak and vote against Strauss on the repetitious theme that he is against "free" trade and against "science," that he is so security-minded as to be hide-bound, and so controversial as to have his "usefulness impaired"—these Senators are not being rational. Worse, they are poisoning their minds with the venom of vindictiveness. For on each of these four points, Strauss is right and his accusers are wrong.

1. ANTI-FREE TRADE: To his critics, this implies that Strauss will use his powers as Commerce Secretary to block any materially increased trade with Soviet Russia and Red China. He certainly will do that. Strauss has more experience than most men with Communism.

One of the specific reasons why he wants to be Commerce Secretary is that he believes the Red Bloc is swinging into an economic phase of the Cold War. This is a battle that Strauss understands, and one he yearns to fight. But he will be fighting on the right side, as he has for many years, against America's worst enemies.

2. ANTI-SCIENCE: The Strauss record as friend and benefactor of human knowledge has been given by Dr. Edward Teller and several other authorities, and needs no embroidery. Strauss' reputation as an anti-scientist is based almost entirely upon the Communist issue, and does the Secretary great credit. His opposition to Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer is well-documented.

Not so well known to the American public is something else. In 1939 when word reached this country that the uranium atom had been fissioned and that a great destructive weapon was possible, a group of American, British and French scientists met and agreed not to publish any atomic information, lest it fall into Hitler's hands.

THE ONE SCIENTIST who broke this agreement was Curie-Joliot, of France, later an ack-nnowledged Communist. Thus it was the scientists themselves who imposed atomic secrecy, and a Communist-prone scientist who disregarded the rule which had been imposed for the good of mankind.

Strauss, who was working under Navy Secretary James Forrestal at the time, has always since then been against trusting anything of value to anybody of Communist coloration.

3. TOO SECURITY-MINDED: Strauss frankly regards this term as an absurdity. The loss of a scientific advantage cannot be recouped. He is security-minded, as his entire service on the Atomic Energy Commission shows, but this is a virtue, not a fault.

Conversely, Strauss returned to the AEC as its chairman in 1953 and put a team of scientists to work on a heap of classified documents. Of these 30 per cent were declassified, another 30 per cent were down-classified, and the rest kept under wraps. It was Strauss who cancelled out the armored cars at Oak Ridge and substituted spot-security for area-security. He has received little or no credit for these sensible acts.

4. TOO CONTROVERSIAL: Strauss said he was "grateful" for the 9 to 8 endorsement by the Commerce Committee. He has whimsically told friends that should the Senate confirm him unanimously, he would have nowhere to go in the Congressional conference except down. But confirmation by a close vote would inspire him to try to improve his position.

It doesn't seem possible that the Senate would vote down as good a public servant at this—not unless the sickness of hatred has become an epidemic—

—Holmes Alexander

East-West Showdown Over Germany

GENEVA — The Berlin and German questions overshadow any other issues between West and East to date. The stakes are higher here than in any other part of the world where Communist and Free World interests clash.

It required over 400 conferences to settle the Austrian problem and it will probably require over 4,000 conferences to settle the German problem, if it can be settled at all.

BUT ONE THING is as certain as anything can be in this conference of the foreign ministers and that is that both sides will not do anything to torpedo the coming summit meeting.

For it will be at the Summit that major decisions will be made and that both sides will make concessions leading to a peaceful solution.

So long as both Premier Khrushchev and President Eisenhower say there is not to be a war over Berlin and Germany, the atmosphere is such that compromises are in the offing from both sides.

IT IS APPARENT here at the Foreign Ministers' Conference that the question of German unity is not only opposed by Russia, but also by France. France does not want a strong unified Germany because France fears German militarism.

This is the same position France took after World War I, only to be outvoted by the rest of the Allies. Britain appears to be on the fence, torn between compromises which will avert a crisis and realizing that a strong militarized Germany is closer to the English Channel than the Soviet Union is. It is fear of Germany more than fear of Russia that seems to permeate the Continent, including the satellites.

THIS IS NOT publicly discussed by the diplomats or government officials of the West, but nevertheless people all over Europe invariably brings up. Fear of Germany may not have a sound basis at the present time, for Germany is militarily impotent when a comparison is made of weapons in the hands of both Germany's friends and enemies.

But the fact still remains that Germany today is much stronger than she was some fifteen years, after World War I, and in the next fifteen years she will again become probably the foremost military power in Europe.

RUSSIA, BOTH AT the Foreign

Minister's conference, and at the Summit here in Geneva later on in August, will make a strong effort to win recognition for the East German Communist regime.

... or will demand that Allied troops pull out of West Germany. Khrushchev wants Berlin to become the capital of East Germany, with all its psychological and political advantages for Communism. Failing to get any of these concessions, it is our opinion that he will drive for the removal of troops from both sides of Germany.

THE ARGUMENT appears to be that West Germany is four times the size of East Germany and that West Germany is capable of defending itself against any East German aggression. This is the gist of Soviet thinking now, just as it was when we covered the Geneva Summit in 1955.

But Khrushchev & Co. say nothing of the twenty-five Soviet divisions stationed just outside the East German border and which in all probability will remain there should the Allied troops pull out of West Germany.

Even if these troops were to be removed, they could be stationed just inside the Soviet border—or inside the satellites—as a constant threat to West Germany, while the Allied troops will be too far removed to be a threat to East Germany.

PREMIER KHRUSHCHEV forced the meeting at the Summit over Germany and Berlin because this area is most prominent and promising in the present showdown between East and West. In our opinion it is the one area in the world on which Russia may take the risk of war, more than any other.

Berlin is the focal point of the cold war between East and West. It is the show-window of western progress as against eastern failure. West Berlin drains manpower from East Berlin to the tune of some 100,000 able-bodied Germans annually, who escape to the West where wages and standard of living are so superior.

THIS DRAIN OF manpower, in addition to the psychological repercussions, adds military potential to West Germany and also keeps increasing the ballot superiority of West Germany over East Germany.

Russia and Khrushchev undoubtedly will try for the best possible deal to neutralize Berlin, by attempting to end the four-power occupation, and by transforming West Berlin into a demilitarized, neutral city, pretty much like Vienna. The Western allies will, of course, refuse this plan, which will leave West Berlin at the mercy of Communism.

KHRUSHCHEV KNOWS, or should by now, that the West will not abandon Berlin to Communism. To do so would result in political disaster for the Free World all over the world.

President Eisenhower and Secretary Herter have defined the U. S. position. "We will not yield any of our agreed rights in West Berlin... to do so would undermine the mutual confidence among our allies, upon which our entire system of collective security is founded."

IT IS OUR OPINION that Russia will ultimately turn over to the East German government its part of the supervision over Berlin. The West, of course, cannot prevent it. This will raise the prestige of the East Germans.

To reduce the crisis, the West may accept it on the basis that East Germany is acting as a kind of an agent for Russia. This will save face. But in the event that East Germany decides to put on a squeeze by embarrassing us at the border, things will get tougher.

AT ANY RATE, both sides will maneuver for the best possible deal, for both sides do not want the risk of war. It is obvious that Khrushchev does not want war, for if he did and thought he could win, he would have attacked long ago.

Communism doesn't need a reason... or a crisis over Berlin... to start a war. Communism will attack the moment it is convinced it will bring victory. That moment is a long way off.

—John Morley.

Quotes from the News

BEIRUT, Lebanon — Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem, in renouncing the Eisenhower doctrine:

"We will defend our soil with our own force... we will work for strengthening friendship with the Communist states."

The Struggle Is Just Beginning

This Side of The Sun

By Phat

It's almost June
And pretty soon
We will not drive so far
To find a place
With plenty space
In which to park the car.

Indicating that more and more people are sticking around or staying later, is that each year it is farther into the summer before parking space right in front of the place you want to go is available.

SPEAKING OF PARKING reminds me of a story.

It seems that long-time winter resident had trouble getting his son out of bed and bright-eyed in time to get to school. He finally hit upon a solution. He bought the boy an automobile and after that the lad had to get up early in order to find a place to park.

THIS BEING the middle of the week and Wednesday's column usually being written on a Monday morning after a day of reading the voluminous Sunday papers, I'd like to report on a couple of items noted yesterday.

One hinted that grey days are ahead. It dealt with the action which the Food and Drug Administration is contemplating.

SEEMS THAT in the interest of purity and good health, the Pure Food Board is considering slapping a ban on 17 coal tar colors used in the production of lipsticks.

Outside of some which are gooey, I prefer sparkling lips to paid ones on pretty women—and girls.

Then there is this disturbing thought. YOU PERFORM some service for one of the fair creatures, something which makes her task easier.

You don't even have to do that—just say something complimentary.

And you get bussed on the cheek or the brow or even the bald spot.

If they take away lipstick, how are you going to go around displaying the badge of merit?

ANOTHER ITEM of interest concerned a recent session of medical men in San Francisco. The discussion turned on the need of periodical physical check-ups to ward off potential ailments.

Some bright doctor thought up a survey and the 350 delegates were questioned.

Only 90-odd, about one in four had had a check up within two years.

SO THEY ALL HAD an examination then and there.

And 21 were found to be suffering from what could develop into a serious disease.

I wonder how many dentists see their dentist twice a year.

AS A WEEKLY bus commuter I still haven't found the answer to one puzzle.

Why is it, with plenty of space up front in the uncontaminated section, women will walk back into the section reserved for smokers, then fan themselves vigorously with newspapers and glare at you when you light up?

STAN DELAPLANE'S Postcard

The suburban housewife is deeper than you think. Ask me how I know. Thank you.

The way I know is because the depth research people have been chaffering with the housewife. Mainly about their car problems.

"Six housewives of ten thought today's cars were too big," reports Dr. Frieberg, a man from Deepsville if there ever was one.

MANY DEEP thinkers would have been satisfied with this. But the Dr. is no wader. He went right out to his neck. What about the other four?

"A number of those questioned volunteered that the streets are too small!"

Man, that is DEEP!

WELL, THIS IS all very interesting to your suburban correspondent. A study of the suburban housewife is always worthy—though right in this community a lady caught her husband studying suburban housewives. She got him twice with the old 38 before he could holier "Ven."

Anyway, the Dr. studied these suburban wrens. And he came to the conclusion they were driving themselves daffy.

"SHE IS THE MOST overworked, underpaid chauffeur in the world. Each day she faces driving problems far more onerous than those which confront the average male driver."

The Dr. went on to list the problems: The school car pool; taxi servicing the children; shopping and grocery delivery service; Red Cross meetings; church activities; delivering husband to bus and picking up same.

IT WAS SO fascinating that we decided to do our own study. We did not inform the subject housewife and imagine she will be surprised when she reads this.

We opened the study while subject and husband were having breakfast.

She: "Where did you put the car keys?"

HE: "WHAT DO you mean, where did I put them? You were driving last night."

She: "Well, if you hadn't insisted on that last martini, you could have driven."

He: "Good grief! Are you going to start that again?"

THIS GIVES YOU a pretty good idea of what ladies are up against. Problems with the car even BEFORE they get into the car.

Only recently I decided to help the suburban housewife's car problems.

It is pretty obvious that one problem is backing out of the driveway. The car goes out of our driveway with EVERYBODY helping and giving advice.

"WATCH OUT for the tree! Watch out, don't run over the child!"

In the meantime, the driver is gritting her teeth and backing like a maniac.

"Don't shout! It makes me nervous. Am I going over the flowers?"

CRASH! Well, there goes the mailbox again.

IT SEEMED TO ME, Sam, they made the plants too long. But since we cannot dig up the garden and make it ALL driveway, I got a smaller car.

The smallest car you can get is a German-made Isotta. It is a fine little car, about the size of a file cabinet. You would have to try hard to hit a tree with that car. It only takes five gallons every week or so and is a great saving to a frugal man.

Would you believe it, no suburban housewife wants to drive this car?

IT IS TOO SHORT. And it is too light. And it doesn't park right because you can SEE where you are parking and we are used to parking by feel!

In fact, the best thing I can see about getting a little car is this: It does not help the suburban housewife. But it is a great help to the suburban houseman.

When things get too rough in the big car, hop in the small car and take off. Right, Dr. Frieberg?

What's In a Dame's Name?

NEW YORK—We were on the town this morning with Jack Kelly, one of the "Maverick" TV stars, and his lovely wife May Wynn—who said, "Did you ever hear how I got the name of May Wynn?"

She'd been Copa Girl Donna Lee Hickey before Hollywood discovered her, and wanted to stay Donna Lee Hickey.

"I was good and mad about it when I heard they were going to change my name to May Wynn because that was the name of the girl I was to play in 'Caine Mutiny'," she told me at Danny's Hideaway.

"So I was all set for Harry Cohn (late head of Columbia Pictures) whose idea I'd heard it was."

"The day he called me in I was boiling mad. He said 'What's all this bit about changing your name to May Wynn? I think it's a horrible name.'"

"I was so obstinate and so mad I shouted, 'I love the name!'"

"He said 'All right, your name's May Wynn.' Two days later I went to him or, bended knee and said 'I'd made a mistake but he said 'You were such a smart aleck, your name is staying May Wynn.' And it has until now, but I think," she said, "it's finally got to go."

The Marlene Dietrich-Carol Channing feud started when I raved to Miss Dietrich about Carol's clever Marlene-mimicry in the nightclub—a fraction as much as I did. Matter fact, she hated it. Marlene herself just opened in Las Vegas. Carol sent her an opening-night gift: a voodoo-type wax doll called "Carol," complete with pins that Marlene can stick in the doll. But Madame was not amused and sent it back.

SAM GOLDWYN invited 110 guests to the very first, very exclusive screening of "Porgy and Bess"—but not Otto Preminger, who directed it after Rouben Mamoulian was fired from the director's post. I asked Otto, just back from directing "Anatomy of a Murder" in Michigan, about it. Oomphed he: "Maybe Sam didn't know I was in town." From the Goldwyn camp: No comment.

Metro's commissary was a buzz with excitement because King Baudoin of Belgium was there breaking bread with Debbie Reynolds, Glenn Ford, Claire Kelly and Taina Elg. A starlet at a table "way out in left field" gushed, "Gosh, just EVERYBODY who's ANYBODY is here!"

AND JUST THEN who should walk into the dining room but the bit player hired for a small but very important role (you'll see only his shape in the dim distance) in the Biblical "Ben-Hur." The actor was wearing his costume for the picture, including his crown of thorns.

Prima ballerina Galina Ulanova arrived with the Bolshoi Ballet for the Los Angeles premiere of her fabulous "Romeo and Juliet." But nobody knew for sure till the last minute that she would do it. She dances only when she feels like it. That's why they never advertise her in advance.

In New York, for instance, 45 minutes before one performance of the same Prokofiev ballet, another ballerina was all poised, tutu'd and limbered up for the starring spot when this message arrived from Ulanova: "Madame will dance tonight." And Madame did indeed dance, while the other gal got herself de-tutu'd.

HECHT-HILL-Lancaster's block bustin' cast for "The Ballad of Cat Ballou" stacks up as Spencer Tracy, Natalie Wood and Burt Lancaster. This will probably be the last picture the H-H-L overlords will shoot as a team. None wants to be behind the scenes, reading scripts and "doing the dirty work." They all want to produce. And the chances of Burt, Harold Hecht or Jim Hill ever speaking to each other again are as remote as the return of the Arecigas to Chavez Ravine!

DAYLIGHT WAS deflowering the maiden lustre of the moon when Jack Benny's brilliant party at Chasen's for his TV guest, Julie Andrews, and her new husband, Tony Walton broke it up... Phil Silvers, Jack's other guest, retired at the height of the hilarity to Dave Chasen's private office—to watch a TV show. That's the curse of television, even in Hollywood. How can a host keep a party swingin' when there's always somebody who just has to "go in the next room and watch my favorite show?"

Songwriters Peggy Lee (yes, I know she's a singer, but she writes 'em too) and David Kassin (he wrote "Laura") were there, making beautiful music together.

I ASKED MISS Andrews how many times she has sung "I Could Have Danced All Night" during the three-and-a-half years she has starred in "My Fair Lady." She had a ready answer: 2,162 times, including matinees. But she assured me she's ready to sign up for another 2,162 at the drop of an anchor.

Sammy Davis Jr., left the party when the attorney for his wife, Loryn White, arrived. He explained he didn't want to "get into a discussion about the divorce."

JACK BENNY told me he'll have an 80-piece orchestra backing him up when he fiddles "Love in Bloom" during his two-week summer stand at the Greek Theatre here in Los Angeles. They've never had such a big band there. The union wage scale of $143 a week makes it prohibitive.

But the American Federation of Musicians has given Jack a special dispensation because the ages of the musicians in this particular band range from 10 to 17. It's the California Junior Symphony Orchestra. And that's why my friend Jackson, who picked up a tremendous tab of $8,500 on his party for the Waltons, is able to his tootin' tots "junior pay."

Marge Champion tells me she went to a baby shower in Bel-Air at which the hostess dyed the hair on one side of her head pink and the other blue, explaining, "It's got to be either a boy or a girl and if it's a boy-and-girl twins I'm home for sure!"

Killebrew Has Fans All Agog

By OSCAR FRALEY
United Press International
NEW YORK (UPI) — The most exciting new personality in the major leagues today is a young man who plays third base like Pepper Martin and hits the ball the prodigious distance of a Babe Ruth wallop.
It is almost even more surprising that he performs for the Washington Senators. This is a team which on the whole masquerades as a major league outfit and must be as surprised as everybody that it has clung in the vicinity of the .500 mark thus far.
One of the reasons has to be the aforementioned young man named Herman Killebrew.

THIS STURDY SLUGGER of the Ethyl power and the bullet-proof chest has become in Washington of far more interest than the state of chip shots, the scandalous price of houses in Foggy Bottom or the fact the Indians perpetually ready to eliminate Capt. John Smith in the National Wax Museum is using the Vardon overlapping grip on his war club.

The answer is that the six-foot, 195-pound Killebrew has been hitting home runs in grape-like clusters. Enough of them so that he currently paces the American League. Even more surprising, he is at the top of the circuit in runs batted in. Considering the fact you can usually shoot a cannon through the infield without hitting a Washington baserunner this adds up to tremendous production.

THERE IS NO attempt to sell the customers the idea he will be the best fielding third baseman in the league by this year, or even next. But when the "Killer" steps up to the plate even the anti-Washington fans who used to stay home in drives sit up and take notice. He has that something called "color" and they're more surprised when he doesn't hit a home run than when he does.

The young man, who will be 23 next month, arrived with the suddenness of an Army jet delivering a batch of new generals to the Pentagon. He was a cinch to make it. The Senators paid him a $30,000 bonus in 1954, when he was a 17-year-old high school graduate hitting .347—that's right, .347—in semi-pro ball. Even more surprising than such an average is that the Senators would part with $30,000 claims. Anybody knows they wouldn't give that much for Warren Spahn with the Washington Monument thrown in.

KILLEBREW SAT disconsolately on the bench for two years, waiting out baseball's idiotic bonus rule. Then, finally, they were able to send him down to the minors for the training he needed so desperately.

Breaking into the regular lineup this year, the "Killer" has been nothing if not sensational.

Minor Leagues To Start Action Thursday, June 4

Minor Leagues, boys in the younger age bracket, who did not make any of the five Little League teams now in action each Monday and Friday at the Polo Grounds, will launch their season Thursday night, June 4. Albert (Woody) Woods, Little League president and Terry Roach, LL Commissioner and Minor League president, said today.

The Minor Leagues are sponsored by Palm Springs Little League association in cooperation with the City Parks and Recreation department.

GAMES WILL be played at the Rodeo Grounds, next to the Polo Grounds diamond.

The schedule calls for three games per week, Monday, Wednesday and Friday with six teams competing for the title. There were four last year.

Games will be played at 7 and 8:30 p.m.

NAMES OF THE SIX teams in the League are Giants, Yankees, Cardinals, Cubs, Tigers and Red Sox. Last year's Sidewinders will be the Tigers this year, the Dodgers will be known as the Cubs and the Indians as the Cardinals.

This year the Minor League will be wholly sponsored by Henry A. Simms, Inc., Joe W. Elcher, president. It marks the first year that a complete league has been sponsored by one organization.

ADMISSION to the games will be free. A record-breaking throng of 150 boys tried out for the Minor League this year.

They are in the 8 to 12 year age bracket. All of them are subject to draft by any Little League team during the season.

New Snarls Threaten Ingemar-Floyd Bout

NEW YORK (UPI) — The Floyd Patterson-Ingemar Johansson heavyweight title fight at Yankee Stadium, June 25, seemed in jeopardy today because of the following developments:

—Promoter Bill Rosenfeld issued a "declaration of independence" against Patterson and manager Gus D'Amato and threatened to sue them for "big money" if they tried to shift the fight to some other city.

—Rosenfeld disclosed that the record-breaking guarantee of $600,000 against the gross gate had been withdrawn by the multi-millionaire Zeckendorf-Bill, Sr., and Bill Jr.—because of unfavorable publicity about awarding the theater-TV rights.

—Rosenfeld admitted, "I don't know what D'Amato will try to do now because of his dissatisfaction with the New York State Athletic Commission's ruling last week against Harry Davidow, the man he had picked to manage challenger Johansson.

Despite the unhappy situation, young Rosenfeld said he would take the personal gamble and try to promote the international 15-round with his own money, "of which I've already ventured $100,000 for outdoor advertising, deposit on the stadium rental, etc."

Coe Eliminated By Lawrence in British Amateur

SANDWICH, England (UPI) — Murray Lawrence of England produced the greatest upset of the 1959 British Amateur Golf Championship today when he eliminated Charlie Coe, Oklahoma City, Okla., 1-up, in the third round.

Coe, captain of the victorious U.S. Walker Cup team and the American amateur king, was the tournament favorite.

Only six Americans reached the fourth round.
Before Coe's upset, two of his Walter Cup teammates, Jack Nicklaus, Columbus, Ohio, and Bill Hyndman, Abington, Pa., gained berths in this afternoon's fourth round.

Eliminate Indians in Playoffs

Palm Springs Boys Tennis team met defeat for the first time in a dozen tournaments this season—but it was a costly one for it eliminated them from the California Interscholastic Federation playoffs for the Class Double A tennis crown.

The Indians bowed to San Marino High at San Marino in the CIF semi-finals, 10½ to 17½.

FRANK RIPLEY and Steve Rosen, playing in the doubles, scored most of the points for Palm Springs, splitting one match and winning the other, for a total of 4½ points.

The other matches were all close, one going to 14 games before a decision.

Gary Grossman and Denny Hammond split their Round Robin play with San Marino rivals, each winning two and losing two for four more Tribe points.

ERIC WILLIAMS picked up a point in his four matches as did Roger Burton.

The Indians won three pre-season matches, swept the Riverside County League without a loss and won over Coronado in the first round of the CIF finals.

Coach Seamus Nunan, naturally disappointed by yesterday's loss, was full of praise for his squad.

"They lost yesterday but they played in great style," he said.

Yesterday's results:

SINGLES
Gary Grossman def. Richard Garey, 6-4; Randy Eberhart, by default; Grossman lost to Winston Lilly, 3-6; to Dennis Olson, 2-6.
Denny Hammond def. Olson, 6-4; Garey, 6-1; lost to Lilly, 4-6; to Eberhart, 1-6.
Eric Williams def. Eberhart, 6-2; lost to Garey, 4-6; Olson, 2-6; Lilly, 1-6.
Roger Burton def. Eberhart, 6-4; lost to Olson, 6-8; Lilly, 4-6; Gary by default.

DOUBLES
John Edmondson-Ted Winston def. Frank Ripley-Steve Rosen, 3-6; Ripley-Rosen def. Edmondson-Winston, 7-3.
Ripley-Rosen def. Steve Sanderson-Jim Schmidt, 6-2, 6-2.
Sanderson-Schmidt def. Dick McFarland-Joe Henderson, 6-2, 6-4.
Edmondson-Winston def. McFarland-Henderson, 6-1, 6-1.

TOUGHEST LOSS OF ALL IN NL HISTORY

Haddix Hurls Perfect Ball For 12 Innings, Loses 2-0

By FRED DOWN, United Press International
Little Harvey Haddix occupies a special niche in baseball history today as the man who pitched the greatest major league game ever—and lost.

They're not even sure whether the final score was 1-0 or 2-0 but it's certain the 33-year-old lefty from Medway, Ohio, will be remembered as baseball's all-time "hard luck pitcher."

And his Pittsburgh Pirate teammates can never forget the night they couldn't score a run for the man who pitched a 12-inning "perfect game."

THE AMAZING SPELL ended at the start of the 13th inning when Felix Mantilla reached first base on a throwing error by third baseman Don Hoak. Eddie Mathews' sacrifice forced Haddix to issue an intentional walk to Hank Aaron in order to face lead-off Joe Adcock with a potential inning-ending double play situation set up.

Then came Adcock's fence-clearing drive—the only hit off Haddix—the resulting confusion when Adcock passed Aaron in the base-line—the question of whether the final score was 2-0 or 1-0—and finally Haddix' post-game comment: "It's only another loss; it just hurts a bit more."

IN ALL BASEBALL HISTORY there is only one "hard luck" pitcher who might be compared to Haddix—Harry McIntire of Brooklyn, who pitched a no-hitter for 10 2/3 innings against Pittsburgh, Aug. 1, 1906 and eventually lost, 1-0, in 13 innings after giving up four hits. All "official" modern perfect games—by Cy Young, Addie Joss, Ernie Shore, Charlie Robertson and Don Larsen—were nine inning affairs and also were all achieved by American Leaguers.

LOCAL RED CROSS CHAPTER CRITICIZES DRIVE APATHY

The Palm Springs Chapter of the American Red Cross today joined the group of 13 other charities which comprise the United Fund here in criticizing the "apathetic community reaction to the cause which answers all needs in one request."

Earl Hough, vice chairman of the ARC here, said that although the community has grown by thousands since last year, the organization's fund request has not been increased.

The $24,904 ARC request is the largest item on the entire 14-charity combined campaign here.

"Recent floods and hurricanes in the south and Midwest have made headlines," said Hough. "We never know when our particular area will be hit but we do know the Red Cross is always at hand."

Without waiting for emergencies, he pointed out, the Red Cross still figures prominently in community safety and charity work. Hough cited:

—THE ARC WATER safety-swimming program, conducted here by Palm Springs High School Vice Principal Wayland S. Reynolds. A total of 310 persons learned life saving and swimming in this program last summer alone.

—The ARC "Teaching Johnny to Swim" swim program, in which small groups of youngsters are taught the fundamentals of water safety and swimming. A total of 90 area children were instructed in this program last year.

—The ARC "home service" program which enables servicemen to fly home in the event of a family emergency. A total of 20 such cases—many of them in desert area families—were handled last year by the Riverside ARC office.

—THE ARC PARTICIPATION in the driver education program in Palm Springs High School, directed by John Kraft, safety services director for the ARC.

—The ARC first aid program, which annually prepares Palm Springs police and fire forces to meet emergency situations with effective first aid.

—The ARC Junior Red Cross program which now has some 3,762 students—high, junior high and parochial schools—enrolled. HOUGH, WHO HAS spent some 24 years as a Villager, said that he was amazed at the lack of response from the community.

"Most local residents must know," he said, "that it is much simpler to make one contribution than to be approached month after month with appeals from a variety of groups."

The Red Cross campaign total—60 per cent of which remains in Palm Springs for ARC work here—is approximately a quarter of the total United Fund total goal of $99,864, Hough pointed out.

Clerical Error Stops Garbage Service for Many

If your garbage disposal pick-up service has been stopped without your knowledge, and you want it to continue, please call the city offices so that it can be straightened out.

Many local residents have reported that the local service had been stopped this week, much to the concern of the city, and an investigation showed that everyone who had paid their disposal service bills at a local bank had had service stopped.

According to Shelby Leonard, director of finance for the city, a clerk at the bank had stamped the date into a space used for discontinuance of service, and the clerks in the waste disposal department had closed the accounts.

City officials, red-faced, have asked for the cooperation of local residents who are not getting service—to please call and the matter will be straightened out.

Council, School Board Discuss Mutual Problems

City Council-School Board cooperation in the establishment of motor pools and recreation facilities was the main topic of conversation at a joint meeting of the two public bodies held this week at Chi Chi.

Arnold Rumwell, president of the Board of Education of the Palm Springs Unified School District, asked the council if it would give land near the airport "at a very nominal fee" to construct a motor pool for school buses and equipment.

IT WAS ALSO pointed out that the combining of purchasing for both the city and the district may bring a big savings to the taxpayers.

The council has two problems facing it before it can give the school district an answer; one to determine if there is enough property for the building of a bus port, and secondly, if the property can be legally given to the school district.

The property at present is under the control of the War Assets Commission.

ALSO DISCUSSED at the meeting was the possibility of the city and school district working together in the acquisition of parks and recreation areas for community.

ity parks. Some of them could be used into recreation uses on local school grounds.

One of the things mentioned by the administrations of both the city and the schools, was the savings that could be made in the joint purchase of gasoline, as well as many common supplies used by both agencies.

When the city acquired the 100 acres on which are located the city garages, city hall, and the police station, they got it from the War Assets Commission. The title of the property is however, subject to a recapture clause in the event the U. S. should go to war.

Desert Air Luau Again Gala Event; Record Crowd

LUAU FUN AT DESERT Air Hotel was enjoyed by hundreds of desert area residents and visitors Saturday night. Among the celebrants were Jack and Lynn Robinson (he's a member of the editorial staff of the Denver Post) pictured above with TV star Bob Cummings.

ANOTHER FOURSOME at the annual Desert Air Luau were Mr. and Mrs. Roger Richard, (he's a realtor) and Mr. and Mrs. John Dahl, (Uncle John's Pancake House). An all-star Hawaiian show was presented to the throng that attended the luau, including fire dances, hulas, and the singing of Hawaiian songs.

AUTHENTIC HAWAIIAN food was served at the annual Luau at Desert Air Hotel, and a large area was screened off in the grass air strip to make room for the celebrants. Pictured above are Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Gell, seated left, who were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Chink Coleman (he is one of the owners of Firecliff Lodge in Palm Desert). (Desert Sun Photos).

270 Students Enjoy High School Junior-Senior Prom

Highlighted by dinner, dancing and top entertainment, more than 270 Palm Springs High School students and faculty members enjoyed the annual Junior-Senior Prom held at the Playhouse Saturday evening.

Staged by the Junior Class in honor of the seniors, the Prom was centered around a night club theme, "Club 59." A different theme is chosen each year and kept secret until the night of the prom.

A canopy made up of 3,000 feet of black and white crepe paper branched out over the entire ceiling of the Playhouse. Hanging from the center was a huge ball decorated with red and silver glitter which shone like a million tiny stars when the spotlight played upon it.

Small potted palm trees, contributed by Neal's Nursery, dotted the premises and added to the decor. Tables covered in white tablecloths and centered with small slender vases holding three red roses, were set up around the dance area.

Highlight of the evening was the crowning of Queen Hazel Micelli, who was chosen from five other candidates. Seated on a throne of red and white velvet, a flowered crown was placed on the pretty queen's head by Dr. Charles Webster, high school principal.

The buffet catered by Santos, featured prime rib of beef and an assortment of delicacies. Jack Neblett and his talented band supplied music for dancing.

Connie Barleau of the Dunes restaurant and the Bonaires, who just finished a week's engagement at the Chi Chi, donated their services to provide the excellent entertainment. Miss Barleau was presented with a bouquet for securing the services of the Bonaires and offering her own.

B'nai Brith Women Hold Installation

The Starlite Room of the Chi Chi was the setting for the installation dinner of the Palm Springs B'nai Brith Women Sunday evening with around 250 friends, members and their husbands in attendance.

White tapered candles in silver candelabra and a large floral spray of white carnations intermingled with blue corn flowers decorated the head table.

Opening the program, Rabbi Joseph Hurwitz gave the invocation followed by Mrs. Marty Cobin, outgoing president of the organization, who gave greetings and was presented with a past president's certificate and past president's pin by Mrs. Louis Kash, Grand Lodge president of District Four from Los Angeles.

Installing officer was Mrs. Louis Kash and assistant installing officer was Mrs. Edward Roodberg, executive board member of Grand Lodge, District Four.

Officers installed were Mrs. E. G. Spears, president; Mrs. Maury Pavy, first vice president; Mrs. Jack Auerbach, second vice president; Mrs. Marty Cobin, counselor; Mrs. Julius Sherman, financial secretary; Mrs. David Lager, treasurer; Mrs. Herman Wittenberg, recording secretary; Mrs. Ben Jaffe, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Sam Black, sentinel; Mrs. Joseph Hurwitz, guardian. Trustees are Mmes. Louis Bogard, Jack Chernow, Jules DeVorzon, Allen Harris, Charles Kabbaker, Al Lehrfeld and Abe Schwartz.

Newly installed president, Mrs. E. G. Spears, was presented the gavel by Mrs. Louis Kash, and spoke briefly on her aims for the coming year.

Preceding the prime rib dinner Mrs. Allen Harris gave a benediction.

The entire Chi Chi floor show provided exceptional entertainment followed with dancing to the Bill Alexander band.

Playhouse Guild Reports Most Successful Season

Palm Springs Playhouse Guild wound up its most successful year to date and elected new directors Monday when it held its annual meeting in the Council Chambers at City Hall.

Elected to the 1959-60 board of directors were: Mrs. John F. Luccarelli, president; Mrs. Victor E. Bertrandias, first vice president; Mrs. Herbert W. Burns, second vice president; Mrs. Dolph Oberget, third vice president; Mrs. Harold P. Cooper, treasurer; Mrs. Richard Bagdasarian, assistant treasurer; Mrs. James M. Schlecht, recording secretary; Mrs. Robert C. Morrey, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arthur R. Rolapp, historian.

Nominating committee was composed of Mmes. Francis A. Guder, Frank Bennett, John Q. McClellan.

In her annual report, Guild president Mrs. John F. Luccarelli said, "The 1959 season has been our most successful so far, the membership having increased greatly under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Otto, who had a very active committee."

"Along with the larger membership, the increased attendance at the performances resulted in this being the first season that the Playhouse did not operate at a loss."

Financial reports show a balance of approximately $10,000. A factor in making this the Guild's first "season in the black" was the increased sale of ticket books. Mrs. Bagdasarian's report showed an increased sale of 40 books more than last year.

Commenting on this, Mrs. Luccarelli added a note of warning, saying that "This is still not enough to enable us to effect all-around improvement and the financing of premium plays and performers. Not less than 1,500 books should be sold each year . . . for a really successful operation."

This year for the first time, the Guild mailed out a brochure to 5,000 people, and this is another factor in promotion of the Playhouse, and Guild activities.

The Ballet Russe De Monte Carlo, which was brought here at a cost of $3,250, and a total expenditure of $5,059.55, had a $5,743.50 ticket sale, resulting in a net profit of $265.95.

The Philharmonic concert, which was well attended, cost $2,750, with total expenditures amounting to $3,831.74, and barely cleared the profit side of the ledger, with $26.76.

At the meeting Mrs. Luccarelli announced that the Ballet Russe is booked for a return performance here on February 7, 1960, and the Philharmonic on the evening of next March 13.

The Preview Performance and gala Sponsors Ball at El Mirador cleared $1,594.59.

The Playhouse, under the producing-directing team of Michael Ferrall and Marrian Walters presented 14 plays and one children's matinee, with the following stars: Wanda Hendrix, Edward Everett Horton, Dorothy Stone, Donald Wood, Pamela Britton, Jennie Hecht, Leo G. Carroll, K. T. Stevens, Charles Winninger.

First Nighter dinners, preceding the opening night performances, were held at the Howard Manor, Oasis Hotel, Biltmore, Chi Chi, Ocotillo Lodge, Racquet Club, Tennis Club, Don the Beachcomber, Romanoffs, El Mirador. Other revenue came from sale of advertising in the Playhouse programs.

Social Security Report Issued

First quarter results of his regular visits to Palm Springs were announced today by Raymond Majjala, field representative of the San Bernardino district office of the Social Security Administration.

During the period from Jan. 1 to March 31, Majjala said he had:

—TAKEN 109 CLAIMS for the retired workers, wives, children and widow's benefits.

—Taken 12 claims for total disability benefits, and had 26 inquiries from persons seeking information regarding the total disability program.

—Met with 43 claimants to discuss additional information needed to process their claims for payments.

—INTERVIEWED 170 persons who had various types of problems in connection with different phases of the Social Security Act.

—Conferred with 120 beneficiaries, persons who had already filed for benefits and who were receiving their checks, but who desired more information about their benefit payments.

Majjala is at the American Legion Hall in the 300 block of North Belardo from 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 2 p.m., on the first and third Thursday of each month.

JOHN PAT GARY, agricultural instructor at the Palm Springs High School, talks with a group of boys who have successfully grown more than a dozen different kinds of vegetables in their outdoor class at the high school. The class has successfully grown many vegetables, but also has discovered that it is almost impossible to grow any root vegetables such as carrots. The course not only gives the class experience in growing produce, but affords them wide experimentation in local soil. (Desert Sun Photo).

Consecration Of Ark, Bima Set for Friday

DESERT HOT SPRINGS — Consecration of the ark and bima of Desert Hot Springs' Congregation Nove Shalom will be held at 8:15 p.m., Friday, in the Jewish Community Center here.

The set was constructed by congregation member Meyer Katz from a design suggested by Center President Jack Green.

The service—which will feature a procession carrying the Torahs from the presently used temporary ark to the permanent ark—will be participated in by Rabbi Isaac E. Block, acting cantor Sam Axelrod, and by Green, Aaron O. Galvin, vice president, and Jack Furman, past president.

Special music will be furnished by Anne Drucker and a reception will be conducted by the Sisterhood following the ceremony.

NEW AGRICULTURE CLASS POPULAR AT HIGH SCHOOL

One of the most popular elective courses at Palm Springs High School this year has been the new class in agriculture, taught by John Pat Gary.

A class of 44 boys are supplying their family tables with an assortment of string beans, lima beans, black-eye peas, broccoli, beets, corn, turnips, Swiss chard, cabbage, mustard greens, rutabagas, parsley and onions.

PLANTED IN the natural desert soil with steer fertilizer, most of the produce has grown very well. According to Gary, the greatest yield has been in blackeye peas, broccoli, Swiss chard and onions.

He pointed out, however, that they have had a great deal of trouble with the growing of carrots and brussels sprouts. "They are just not doing well and we are not sure why."

A BEAUTIFUL CORN crop is ripening now, and according to one boy, who picked and ate it without cooking or salt and butter, "it's delicious and tender." Class members have found out that the peanut crop may be good, but are anxious to see the yield; okra is good, but garlic questionable.

In the flower department, some of the boys grew zinnias and marigolds, which are growing profusely, but these are the only flowers that were planted this season.

GARY SAID THAT each boy is given freedom in picking just about what he wants to grow, but the class as a whole has been most excited about the corn crop, and have awaited its ripening eagerly. School officials have arranged for a two-hour advanced course in agriculture for the next school year. The elective course will give the boys an opportunity to bud and graft and to research at nurseries.

"ANYTHING A boy likes to grow he will study thoroughly and report on it," said Gary. "There also will be a course in agriculture offered for girls, but," he pointed out, "girls really like to grow things to make good class students."

"A few years from now the girls will want to know how to plant a lawn or garden," said Gary, "but right now they think you hire these things done."

DMV'S ROLE IN EMERGENCY

If California should be the target of an enemy attack, all normal functions of the State Department of Motor Vehicles would be immediately halted, and DMV would become a sort of giant "missing persons bureau."

The department would stop registering vehicles, issuing driver licenses, serving briefs, conducting investigations and suspending their driving privileges.

It would become a registry of people only.

AN ORDER designating DMV as the registry division of the California Disaster Office in the event of an extreme emergency, was signed last February by Governor Edmund G. Brown.

Officials of the Disaster Office say there would be widespread and extensive movement of people in the event of an actual or impending attack on California.

Wives would be separated from husbands and children would be separated from parents. Members of families separated would find it extremely difficult to communicate or to affect reunion without help. The Department of Motor Vehicles, as a disaster Registry Division has been established for the purpose of assisting in the reuniting of the separated families.

THE ONLY EFFECTIVE means for providing information about the locations of persons was by establishing a State Central Registry. DMV was selected as the State agency best qualified to perform this function, because of its vast organization, statewide facilities, and large staff of 4,600

Ike Asks Atom Arms Pact Okeh

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower submitted to Congress today agreements with four allied nations to supply secret information and equipment to train their forces in using atomic weapons.

The agreements, effective automatically in 90 days unless the House and Senate disapprove, were reached with West Germany, Turkey, The Netherlands and Canada.

Eisenhower earlier submitted pacts with Britain and France to supply atomic materials to help in their development of atomic weapons.

employees well trained in registration procedures and could assume this new task with a minimum of training.

The plan provides that the department shall immediately activate State and County Central Registries in the event of attack or receipt of warning of impending attack. The Central County Registration Offices would receive, in duplicate, completed registration and inquiry forms from the Emergency Welfare, Medical and Health and other Services.

ONE COPY OF these forms would be forwarded to the State Central Registration Office. It would be the responsibility of the department to correlate registration data and inquiries and to furnish information about the location of individuals to the inquiring services.

It is estimated that millions of California residents would relocate in the event of attack. Under this plan we would ultimately receive registration forms for most of the persons relocated and an anticipated volume of information requests totalling in the millions.

Goldberg Tells Plan for New Las Vegas Unit

George E. Goldberg, Palm Springs resident and president of Midwest Hotel Co., has broken ground on the newest addition to the hotel chain, the Flamingo Capri in Las Vegas, Nevada.

To have 160 rooms, the motel will be located immediately north of the present Flamingo Hotel on the famous "strip" and Goldberg announced that Bill Capri of the Flamingo Hotel will be associated with him in the enterprise.

Operation of the new motel will be tied in closely with the Flamingo Hotel on the famous "strip" and Goldberg announced that Bill Capri of the Flamingo Hotel will be associated with him in the enterprise.

Most unique of the new development will be a 500-foot long and 90-foot wide artificial lake, and facing on the lake will be a cantilevered pool and deck area extending one-half the length of the lake.

Horner Tells of New Japan After Non-Tourist Visit of Interior Area

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series being furnished exclusively for The Desert Sun by Comdr. Maurice Horner, a Village winter resident now on a tour of the Far East. Commander Horner is revisiting some of the areas he saw duty in during World War II and is furnishing his candid opinions on the changes he observes.)

By COMDR. MAURICE HORNER

TOKYO — American and other tourists in Japan routinely follow a sort of "guided tour" of the main points of scenic, cultural and economic interest.

In order to evade this stereotyped format, my wife and I managed to effect a "non-tourist" excursion that took us into the interior regions of the central and southern Japan.

We went to Yokohama, Kyoto and Kobe, then plunged into Kamakura, Hiroshima, Osaka, Takamatsu, Matsuyama, Bepou, Mijima, Nagoya and smaller cities and towns.

WHAT WE HAVE SEEN has been illuminating, insofar as it pertains to the present status of Japanese thinking.

We have found cleanliness, honesty, ingenuity and hospitality wherever we have gone. This feeling has been extant in all age groups, in all classes.

We have had, however, to be wary of the tourist, Japanese-style. In the interior, the Japanese vacationers are very nearly as numerous as American and other visitors are in the principal cities. Every month save January—when the national holidays occur—the Japanese are on the move throughout the length and breadth of their land.

THE NIPPON TOURISTS stop everywhere to eat and to take pictures. It seems that every Japanese owns a camera and takes pictures by the score. Everywhere we have gone the Japanese travelers are busily snapping shutters and winding film.

Most of the travelers are young and are sent on these travels throughout the nation by their parents—usually at great personal sacrifice. Many of the Japanese tourists are from farm families.

Farmers in Japan are undergoing a resurgence but it is done largely through hard work—10 to 14 hours per day, seven days a week.

TAXI DRIVERS IN Kyoto, Nagoya, Tokyo and Bepou make the cabbies of New York, Paris, Madrid and Rome look like a cautious version of the proverbial turtle. Their rates—in the rural areas particularly—are extremely low.

Suburban roads and highways strive for a high degree of repair—but lack of control of trucks (no weight limits, for instance) have resulted in some bad holes in the side of the road used by the heavily-laden vehicles.

Rest rooms are spotless but because of their system of use sometimes result in uncomfortable situations for the novice.

THE JAPANESE appear to be rather heavy imbibers of their own beer and sake and sales of their own domestic whiskey and gin are steadily rising. At the same time, however, there appears to be little sign of excessive overindulgence on the part of the Japanese populace.

This nation's cultured pearl industry—a huge facet of the country's economy—is making great strides. About 98 per cent of all the pearls are exported with 58 per cent of the total going to the United States.

But even with consistent gains in elevating the standard of living here, the average Japanese must still exist on a very minimum standard of living. Wages paid represent about an eighth to a sixth of the American average.

THE JAPANESE STILL cling to their emperor, if somewhat differently, with all the tenacity they ever have. He is still a sort of ceremonial idol but now he is a strengthening factor between classes in Japan.

The prince's marriage to a commoner heightened that factor and brought many hopeful and desirable reactions. He recently visited the home of his bride's parents, an act that was completely unforeseen and unexpected. This act has pleased the Japanese people greatly.

The prince has indeed forsaken the feudalistic peers and in their stead heaps favors on the growing troop of modern, financial peers.

SOME OF THESE people still remain stoical of the fate they face. They are fatalists, apathetic, resigned. They feel that they did not lose everything in their defeat in the Pacific.

Most of the Japanese do not blame the U. S. for the situation they were in at the conclusion of hostilities. This feeling may best be gauged by reading the inscription—in both English and Japanese—which marks the memorial for the 240,000 victims of the atomic bomb at Hiroshima. It says:

"Repose in peace: We shall never make that mistake again."

PAUL ANDERSON, left, chairman of the Riverside County Board of Supervisors, conferred with Congressman D. S. Saund ('D West-morland'), representative of Riverside and Imperial Counties, when Anderson spent three days in Washington last week. Anderson represented Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino Counties when he testified before the Senate Interior Appropriations Subcommittee on the Forest Fire Control Budget. Congressman Saund also arranged for Anderson to meet with officials of the U.S. Forestry Service and Soil Conservation Service.

Police Chief Reports

Accidents Down For Last Month

A substantial reduction in the number of traffic accidents during the month of April, compared to the same month last year highlights the monthly report of Chief of Police August G. Kettmann, who said that police held a "status quo" during the month.

Traffic accidents decreased from 28 tallied in April of 1958 to 14 recorded for the same month this year.

THE REPORTS make note of the fact that thefts of both over and under $50 as well as drunk arrests declined greatly during the month as compared to last year. Juvenile arrests showed the greatest change, dropping from 239 in April 1958 to 30 for that month.

The U.S. private and commercial truck fleet consists of some ten and a half million vehicles. Placed bumper to bumper, they would circle the earth.

this year. The reduction was credited with the fact that last year Easter vacation was in the month of April, and it was in March of this year.

Otherwise the month of April was seasonal in nature, with the workload of the department continuing to increase. Department personnel put in a total of 234 hours of overtime, and spent about 30 hours in training programs. The police reserves added another 116½ hours to police activities.

RADIO TRANSMISSIONS were less during the month by just short of 1,000 calls, but the total for the year climbed to 120,113 compared to 102,713 for the ten-month period last year.

Chief Kettmann reports that the reduction in traffic accidents, which for the 10-month period tallied 186 for 1958 and 165 for this year, was particularly good since there was an estimated 10 per cent increase in traffic in this area.

Voters Defeat Segregationists In Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (UPI)—Voters threw three segregationist members backed by Gov. Orval Faubus off the Little Rock School Board Monday night. This apparently paved the way to reopen and integrate the city's four closed high schools this fall.

It was a bitter defeat for Faubus, who twice within the past few days had made television appeals warning that mob violence might return if the segregationists lost.

The governor said in his statewide television appeal that even if the segregationists were ousted he would stand firm in his fight against enforced integration of Little Rock schools.

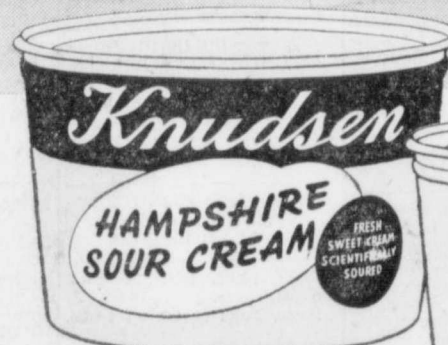

Malibu Collision Takes 5 Lives

MALIBU, Calif. (UPI)—A speeding convertible roared down a twisting highway Monday night, spun out of control at a curve and smashed head-on into another car, pushing it backwards 42 feet.

Five persons lost their lives in the fiery crash.

The only person to escape death was the driver of the convertible, Norman Messer, 25, Santa Monica. He suffered critical injuries. His wife, Pamela, 25, was one of the dead.

Gay Adventures in Good Eating

What'll you have? Strawberries topped with Hampshire? Fruit Cup made with cottage cheese mixed with pineapple chunks, orange slices and flavored with a teaspoonful of honey? A Strawberry-Cottage Cheese Parfait (see 10th Edition Knudsen Recipe Book)? Luscious desserts—as only sweetly-fresh Knudsen Cottage Cheese and mellow-tart Hampshire Sour Cream can make. They're fun, they're fancy—low in calories, high in protein. Try 'em soon! You'll love 'em.

Knudsen Hampshire Sour Cream is versatile—by adding seasonings to taste, it is also ideal for every food combination which calls for mayonnaise. Use Knudsen Hampshire Sour Cream generously, for it contains 1/4 less calories than mayonnaise.
